

LARGER PREMISES FOR THE CITY POST OFFICE

Department Acts On Recommendation From Board of Trade and Secures Offers of Premises

In answer to representations made by the board about the post office facilities, A. W. Cairns, post office inspector for the Dominion Government was in the city on Tuesday and Wednesday to investigate the grievances complained of by the board.

The memorial addressed to the post office department by the board of trade complained that the post office quarters were altogether too crowded for a growing city like Edmonton, and that the allowance made to the postmaster was not sufficient to allow him to secure larger premises in which to conduct the business.

Mr. Cairns recognized the truthfulness of the memorial the moment he stepped up the post office and the town, and in company with Postmaster Alex. Taylor toured the city on Wednesday in search of suitable premises. It was found impossible to secure premises on Jasper avenue. Offers of two sites, however, were obtained. One of these is the east end of the building at present occupied by the Great West Impement Co. on the corner of Rice and Fraser, and a lease of which was offered to Mr. Cairns by the company. The position of the building in question has a frontage of 66 feet and a depth of about 30 feet.

The only other site offered was that on the corner of Rice and McDougall, owned by K. A. McLeod. At the rear end of a lot is a building, and Mr. McLeod has another building in the rear of J. B. Mercer's liquor store, 28x72, which he offered to move onto the site on Rice street. Both of these sites were favorably looked upon by Mr. Cairns. He will make a report to the department immediately upon the result of his visit to the city, and it is likely that some action will be taken at once to secure large temporary quarters for the post office.

COAL APPLICANTS MUST CASH UP

Government Will Take No More
"Stand Offs" for Coal Lands in Alberta

There is to be no more "stand-off" business in the coal line if the Department of the Interior knows itself. At least this is the effect of a circular sent out by Percy G. Keys, secretary of the Department of the Interior, to the land offices in the west.

The effect of the circular is that the applicants for coal license must pay up whenever their applications are due or that their applications are to be considered as having absolutely lapsed.

The causes which led to this rigid interpretation of the policy of the lands department are very evident to the people of Edmonton. Coal applications have been in demand at the land office for the past six months and there is now an immense area covered by coal applications, on which payments have been made to a greater or less extent. As far the greater part of these areas are held for purely speculative purposes, the government has decided that the speculators must either pay up or get off. Where extensions were made in the past it was usually with the understanding that the applicants were settlers or pioneer coal miners who were entitled to some consideration.

There are some large payments due on coal lands on the first of April, and to these payments the rigid interpretation of the coal law will apply. For this one month, however, a slight relaxation is made. Parties who have made payments on any particular area and are unable to make the subsequent payments covering the whole of the area may, at the time of the April payments, contract their area and concentrate all payments past and present on the contracted area, so that a part of the area which they originally applied for may be paid for in full and the balance on which they are unable to make the subsequent payments revert to the government.

WINNIPEG MERCHANTS CLASH

WITH C. P. R.
Winnipeg, Feb. 27.—The members of the board of trade refuse to sign the shipping contract submitted to them by the C. P. R. releasing the company from liability for damage to goods in transit and have sent a copy of the contract to the railway commissioner.

STRATHCONA WON.

The Edmonton Thistles journeyed to Strathcona last evening to play a return exhibition match with the seniors, and were treated to a defeat by a score of 11 to 1. The only way in which the Thistles account for their defeat is that the boys were pretty well done up, the team was short of four of the strongholds, Dobson, Banford, Powers and Johnston. Strathcona had a full strength aggregation, and went into the game for every goal they could get. During the last half, Wright of the Thistles, got a nasty cut with the rubber as it was coursing through the air, and had to be laid off for the second half, the teams playing six men a side. Edmonton's lonely score was scored by Campbell before half time. The half ended 8-1. The game, during the second half was a little better and only three goals were scored by the Strathconas. Sibbald and Elliott played up well, and Deaton of course, got in a few good rushes. But the boys were not in shape to win, and the game was not very exciting for the few along the sides. The line-up was: EDMONTON. Grady goal, Lane point, Elliott cover, Deaton rover, Campbell centre, Sibbald left, McArthur right, Wright wing, Referee, O. B. Bush, Edmonton; Judge of play, Bud Kent, Strathcona.

SPRING RUSH ON IN LAND OFFICE

Over Three Hundred Homesteaders
File on Land During Month of February

The spring rush has hit the land office this week, and all parties who have business to do are advised to get there early and be prepared to do it on the short order plan. There is no time for unnecessary formalities these days.

Just as an indication of what is taking place in the Edmonton district, even at this early date, there were 308 homestead entries made during the month ending February 28, the most ever entered for in any February in Edmonton's history, and 152 more than last year in the same month, or within four of being twice as many.

Figured on a basis of families, three hundred homesteaders represent an increased population for the Edmonton district of over 1,000 people.

But this is by no means representative of the number of people who have settled in the district within the past month. For the first time in the history of the country people are going away beyond the survey and squatting on lands along the Athabasca river and as far away as the Peace. Nor is it only a few of them who are doing so, but hundreds of them.

New lands are being thrown open by the government right along, as fast as surveys can be made, but the surveyors cannot keep pace with the incoming settlers and there seems every reason to believe that there will be thousands of settlers who will go into the unsurveyed country this summer and take up the favored locations under squatters rights.

During the month of February there were 107 patents issued against 62 issued during the same month last year. There were 2,506 letters received and 2,669 letters sent last month, against 1,433 received and 1,277 sent during the corresponding month of last year.

RED DEER NEWS

Red Deer, Feb. 28.—Posters are out announcing a hockey club carnival on the second. A feature of the evening will be a race between Dan Smith, the local speedy skater and a fast man from outside.

There was a dance in the Great West hotel on Monday night.

An informal ball was given in the Oddfellows hall last night by the bachelors of Red Deer. About twenty couples were present and all enjoyed themselves immensely. Madames Cotingham and Fostell were chaperones.

Mr. Jamieson, the C.P.R. man, stated when here yesterday that upwards of $50,000.00 would be expended in improvements in Red Deer this year.

A gasoline saw-mill is operating in Henderson's wood yard.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Ladies Card Club was held today at Miss Cauldwell's.

The school was re-opened on Monday morning.

A convention of the druggists of Alberta is being held in town. Among those present at the conference are W. Findlay, Calgary, and Messrs. MacDonald and Bradon of Edmonton. The meeting is to be held tonight in the club rooms above the post office.

There were two hundred and six homestead entries at the Government land office for the short month of February. The emigration in 1905 was thought heavy, but for the same month in that year there were only forty-eight entries.

Two rinks from the Red Deer Curling Club, one skipped by A. Scott, of the Bank of Commerce and the other by A. T. Stevenson, went down to Lacombe yesterday to play for the district cup.

When they arrived they found that the schedule had already been drawn out and the two Red Deer rinks had been drawn one against the other as also had the two Wetaskiwin rinks, while Lacombe had entered five rinks, one of which got a bye clear into the finals. The C.P.R. is to install a twenty-car stock yard here as soon as spring arrives.

Yesterday being Ash Wednesday, services were held in nearly all the churches. A coffee and cake social was held in the Methodist church Monday night. Jack Brazier, Red Deer's well known "row 'em to 'tird" base ball player has gone into the milk business in connection with his restaurant. The new lumber mill will employ over two hundred hands and will be able to turn out 125,000 feet of lumber per day. It will probably be one of the largest in the province.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Telling on his farm near Burnt Lake, the contracting parties being E. S. Hogg and Miss Marie Telling. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Hogg will reside in town.

SCOTT-MCINNIS CASE IS ON

Regina Libel Suit Began in Court—
McInnis on the Stand

Regina, Mar. 1.—The Scott-McInnis libel case continued all day today. The court was crowded with spectators. H. M. Howell, K. C. and N. F. Hagel, K. C. for the Crown, contended themselves with stating the alleged libel and waited for the defence. Hon. T. Mayre Dilly and F. H. Phippen for defence, put McInnis in the box. He gave an account of Premier Scott's alleged visit to his office. Another witness for the defence was his son Thomas McInnis who stated he had overheard the conversation in question from outside the door. Howell submitted the young man to a vigorous examination and characterized him as a sneaking eavesdropper.

ARMOUR COMPANY SUPPERS

Philadelphia, Mar. 2.—Fire today destroyed and distributing plant of Armour & Co. loss $150,000. The building was filled with dressed meats and provisions.

FRENCH SOLDIERS RETURNING HOME

The customs receipts in the Calgary office for the month of February were $19,640, an increase of ninety per cent over last February.

Calgary has disposed of $25,000 worth of city bonds bearing interest at 4 1/2, at 100 1-2.

Three Frenchmen, natives of France and members of the first reserve of the French Army, left Calgary for France on Tuesday night, summoned home by the war office. The names of the men are Chaleur, Grangean and De Rulere. It is believed that there are about two hundred liable to service in the French army in Alberta.

BREDIN, CORNWALL & ROBERTS SELL TO REVILLON BROTHERS

Big Deal in Northern Fur Trading Business Completed Yesterday—Posts and Fur Catch Taken Over

One of the biggest transfers ever made in the northern mercantile and trading business was consummated yesterday, when Revillon Bros. Ltd., of Edmonton and Paris, took over the fur trading business of Bredin, Cornwall & Roberts. The consideration is not made public, but undoubtedly it must have been a handsome one, as Revillon's come into possession of nine main trading posts in the north, with a dozen or more sub-posts, all the business, and property of the Bredin, Cornwall & Roberts company, and also the entire fur catch for the present season. A part of this catch, amounting to over $40,000, has already been brought down and is in Revillon's warehouse for shipment to Paris.

The business taken over by Revillon's is a very large and growing one. There are posts at Lesser Slave Lake, Whitefish Lake, Peace River Crossing, Spirit River, Dunvegan, Grand Prairie, Fort St. John, Hay River and Vermilion, from all of which there is more or less business done in the way of sub-posts. The fur catch of these posts alone in an average year will amount at least to $100,000, and besides the fur trade there is a large mercantile and supply business, furnishing surveyors, prospectors, land hunters, timber cruisers, freighters, fishermen and all the miscellaneous assortment of pioneers who invariably are to be found in the north. As this is a very large year in the fur business, and as there are an unusual number of travellers in the north it is a safe guess that the turnover in the posts taken over by Revillon's will go well over $150,000 for the present season.

The Revillon firm has only been doing business in Canada for about 25 years, but in that time they have entrenched themselves in the fur business throughout the Dominion in such a way that they are now, second only, possibly, to the Hudson Bay, the largest factor on the American continent. They handle the fur from the trapper of the far north to the grand dame of St. Petersburg and Paris. There is no intermediary with them. Revillon's handle all the business themselves. They have trading posts dotting the whole Atlantic coast line from Gaspe right around into Hudson Bay, and they have posts throughout the north woods of Ontario and Quebec and the great plateau to the north of the prairie section of Manitoba and Saskatchewan. By the purchase of the Bredin, Cornwall & Roberts business they come into control of posts which practically completes their evident intention of covering the whole fur country from Atlantic to Pacific. They now have no less than one hundred and fifty stores and posts in the Dominion of Canada, and the business of the Dominion is divided into two sections, one of which has headquarters in Montreal and the other in Edmonton, with the Mississippi river in Ontario as the boundary line between the east and the west.

The fur taken throughout this vast country is shipped direct to Paris, where it is manufactured in their own establishments and sold out of their own stores.

STRATHCONA NEWS ITEMS

The Bulletin's Daily Budget From the Sister Town

Strathcona, March 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane, who have been in town for several weeks, the guests of Mr. G. Bush, left town this morning for Pasadena, California. Mr. Cochrane is postmaster at Kempville, Ont., and has been granted six months' leave of absence on account of ill-health.

Mr. Newby, of Grand Forks, B. C., left town this morning on his way home. He has been visiting his brother, who is located in the Birch Lake district.

Mr. Weir, late of Nelson, B.C., is putting up a stock of goods for sale in the corner block, nearly opposite the Chronicle office, Whyte Avenue East. He will be ready for business in about two weeks.

Mr. Rose, miner, who has had varying success in the Yukon, came in here last fall via Seattle. He is an Ontario man and has been in the Yukon for about six weeks and seeing what the prospects are for miners in Northern Alberta.

Messrs. Tuck and Summers have opened a meat shop on Whyte Avenue East.

Mr. R. A. Brock, town, came in on the C. & E. from the south, this afternoon.

Mr. Brickman, who came from Oklahoma, U. S., last fall, was in town lately. He has taken up land in the neighborhood of Battleford, one section in all for himself and sons. He goes out to his claim in the spring.

A deputization interviewed the mayor yesterday as regards the advisability of making provision for a better accommodation of our travelling public. It appears these gentlemen who are in our town will not be able to take care of the rush of travellers anticipated in the near future. No action was taken in the matter.

Workmen are busily engaged at the Duggan brick block now. They are remodeling the interior and making ready for H. E. Sanderson, who is moving his real estate office down there, in order to give Mr. W. A. Brock more room for his furniture and undertaking business.

REGARDING FOOTBALL. Edmonton, March 1, 1906. To the Editor Daily Bulletin:

Dear Sir—In a recent issue of the Bulletin I see that Alberta college claims to have the championship football team of northern Alberta, and I have been asked by the members of the Edmonton football club to inquire on what grounds they claim the title. The town club met and defeated the college eleven two or three times during last season. They also beat Ladue and drew with Lac Ste. Anne. The college team beat the High school once or twice and at the end of the season defeated an eleven captained by myself, but which was certainly not a representative combination of the town—a fact which, at the time, I told the collegians. Does the defeat of a High school and a scratch team constitute a championship? No club can claim such a title until the best teams of the district have been defeated and I am quite sure that, were a league to be formed of towns between here and Red Deer, and clubs from surrounding settlements, such as Clover Bar, Sturgeon, Stony Plain and Poplar Lake, our student friends would finish nearer the bottom than the top of the tree, thus effectually proving their claim to be without the slightest foundation.

Yours faithfully,
FRED MARSHALL,
Hon. Sec. E.F.C.

A PARK COUNTRY. (Montreal Herald)

Mr. G. Riley, land commissioner of the Grand Trunk Pacific has just returned from a trip to Battleford, in the Northwest, where he has been engaged on business connected with rights of way for the new system and is most emphatic in the expression of his firm belief that the line traverses the best and richest part of the country.

"After leaving Manitoba the railway passes through long stretches of park-like country," said Mr. Riley in an interview with the Herald. "It is not densely wooded, but it contains trees that attain good proportions, and these are surrounded by rich prairie grasses. The great advantage that this kind of country possesses over other prairie is that the climate is softer and more temperate. The supply of moisture can be depended upon to refresh the soil and vegetation with greater constancy."

Mr. Riley, who was chief of the lands branch of the Department of the Interior, under the Federal Government, Ottawa, says that the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific in British Columbia, will traverse plains and valleys that are said to be of great richness and will run along hillsides that abound in minerals—gold, silver, copper and magnesia and hematite. But all through the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta the line goes through the park-like country he has described, abounding with stretches of rolling prairie—an ideal country for settlement for farming purposes.

The railway itself is endowed with no land grant save that which it has from the Ontario Government in the Algoma district and all these lands are available for immediate settlement. It is Mr. Riley's opinion that this most northern of the railway routes will prove most desirable for the establishment of homes, as the lands are likely to furnish the greatest variety of productions.

The chinook and its work
 (By J. McCaig in the Winnipeg Free Press.)

The chinook is one of the most interesting climatic phenomena of North America. The name is derived from the name of the Chinook Indians, who occupied a district at the mouth of the Columbia. As originally applied, it stood for a warm, southwest wind blowing over this locality. It was then thought to be due to the influence of the warm Japan current which could not possibly be accountable for the widespread influence of this wind. It is still popularly considered to have this origin. The warm properties of the wind when it strikes the prairie on the east side of the Rocky Mountains is thought not to be compatible with the cold or mountain altitudes and it has been naturally concluded that it must be simply a current of air of Pacific warmth that finds its way through the passes and low gaps of the mountains.

This theory has, however, been exploded by the investigations of the scientists. The name has extended in use and applies not only to the original southwest winds along the Oregon coast, but also to the warm winds of the prairie though these are different in origin. The coast winds are no doubt of oceanic influence but the chinook of the prairies though it has stolen the name, is quite different in origin. The movement of air represented in a chinook wind must be referred to conditions incident to atmospheric movement at any time or place, that is adjacent to area of low pressure which, of course, explains all the cases of atmospheric movement. The existence of a high pressure area on the plateau west of the Rocky mountains with a contemporary occurrence of low pressure on the eastern side is the first cause of the chinook. Observations have shown that a variation of three or four degrees of pressure between the plateau of Utah and the plain of Manitoba and the Northwest has invariably preceded the occurrence of the chinook.

But this does not explain the warmth of the chinook. The path of the movement of the high pressure area is over the Rocky Mountains and it is the passage over the divide that is accountable for the moderate temperature of the chinook. The temperature of the air lowers as it climbs the slope, but this lowering is accompanied by a condensation of the water vapor of the air. Just as it takes heat to convert water into vapor so heat is liberated in the condensation of vapor into rain. This not only checks the lowering of temperature by expansion, but increases the rapidity of movement which carries the current below super-imposing strata of air subjects the travelling air to compression, by which its temperature is raised so the chinook is a warm wind. The increase in temperature is said by United States weather authorities to be one degree for every six hundred feet of descent. The appearance of the "chinook" clouds, popularly so called, is the condensation of the moisture which has climbed the western slope of the divide and is coming over way.

The effect of the chinook is phenomenal. Changes in temperature are very rapid. A rise of forty-seven degrees is recorded to have occurred in seven minutes in Montana and thirty inches of snow has been melted or evaporated in twelve hours. Correspondingly great changes have occurred in southern Alberta. The wind comes roaring down the passes of the mountains in such places as Frank, with great force. They have a high rate of speed at Lethbridge, Macleod, and Calgary. Their influence is great at Medicine Hat, and to a considerable degree farther east, and is slightly perceptible at Regina. As far north as Edmonton, and even into the Peace River valley, soft, warm, south-westerly winds are felt contemporaneous with the more violent wind of the south, though at these points their characteristic influence is greatly attenuated. In southern Alberta they blow the snow violently about for a time and finally lick it all up and leave a dry prairie, though sometimes part of the snow is melted on the ground.

The economic importance of the winds is great. It is the chinook that has given to southern Alberta its fame as a ranch country. Cattle, horses and sheep graze out all winter without any food, except the prairie hay, which comes on the stem. Once in ten years an exceptionally hard winter occurs which decimates the herds of those who do not provide supplementary food for stock in prolonged hard weather, but generally little hay is fed. Range horses and cattle take on a heavy coat with the approach of winter. If the wind does not temper the wind to the shorn lamb and the cow and the horse, he covers them with a suitable blanket during hard weather. The cattle can "huddle" the wind better than the cowboy, and while still surrounded by the frozen crust and numb with the sleeping frost, faces the west and with noses aloft herald its coming. Then they get out on the knolls soon to be bare, and begin to feed. The rancher is passing. The Saxon settler has pierced into cattledom at all points and his furrow is blackening the tawny prairie.

He likewise has his problems. The rancher profits by natural conditions: the farmer is combating them. His great need is moisture and the Chinook is on the side of the rancher and opposed to the farmer. Winter snows and spring rains are alike licked up and carried away by the thirsty chinook. The farmer has about three times as much rainfall as his crop of cereals demands for its maturing but the problem is to hold them.

He will succeed. His rugged furrow will sweep the snow to cutbank and coulee. His well disked field will take the rain and hold it from washing over the hard face of the prairie, and his cultivator will keep over it a dust blanket to keep it from joining the masses with its travels. His forest plantations will join in the work. Alberta will blossom as the rose and give tribute anew to man's command over nature's forces.

THREE YEAR CAMPAIGN.

(Calgary Herald)
 There was a spirited meeting of the council of the Board of Trade last night. A number of important subjects were handled but the publicity campaign was the chief question under consideration. The different members expressed their confidence in the ability of the committee to raise $15-

000 or $20,000, but the point where the division of sentiment was displayed was whether the money should be spent in one year or spread over several years. It was finally decided that no efficient campaign could be organized for one year exclusively and that the committee should continue its good work, with the understanding that the three years' plan of action would be worked out.

A publicity committee consisting of Messrs. Davidson, Young, Patterson, Rowley, Patterson, Krole and Ferguson, was organized. The committee would confer with the publicity committee of the council with reference to the city's subscription. The idea is to secure $15,000 from the city and construct a temporary building to cost $900 to display grain and other resources of the district to newcomers.

T. J. S. Skinner, who has just returned from an extended visit in the east, said he heard much talk of Calgary in the east and related with much interest the manner in which the Herald's comment about the fear of inflated prices was received by leading business men of Toronto. They approved the criticism, and declared that Calgary enjoys brilliant prospects in the estimation of eastern business men, which might be seriously affected by an untimely "boom."

COLD STORAGE WAREHOUSE

(Albertan)
 Hon. W. H. Cushing, Minister of public works, and C. P. Marker, superintendent of creameries, met the city commissioners and discussed with them the situation in Southern Alberta.

They stated to the commissioners that it was not the purpose of the Government to make butter in Calgary, but they did wish to erect a cold storage warehouse, where the output of the various provincial creameries could be profitably handled.

Owing to the excessive switching charges the present building was not desirable for the purpose. Mr. Marker stated that the Government is open to buy from the city at a reasonable rate the two lots immediately east of the Western Planning Mills Co., upon which would be built a 100,000 storage plant. The city now received $500 a year rent for the present creamery, but of course the building could be rented for some other purpose. Nothing was done in the matter, but a report will be made to the council later.

MURDER ON MANTOBA RESERVE
 Grisdold, Mar. 1 - This morning, Wambidaka a highly respected Indian of Oak River Reserve, four miles north of here, was shot and instantly killed by Bear, an Indian from the Pipestone reserve. Details are meagre at present. The trouble was over a horse deal. The murderer is still at large, but will soon be captured.

ONTARIO PICKING UP

The High Court of Ontario has decided that members of religious orders "shall be debarred from teaching in the Province unless they are possessed of the qualifications required of ordinary teachers." Diligent applications may in the course of time bring the Ontario school system some-where within hailing distance of the state controlled system of education of Alberta and Saskatchewan. When this is accomplished will be ample time for the wise-acres of the "Premier Province" to offer unsolicited advice to the people of these provinces on how to run their schools. In the meantime the aggregate wisdom of Ontario might be more profitably employed extracting the beams from the eyes of their own none-state-controlled system.

ASSAILING RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT

The Toronto News, makes the terrible charge that the autonomy bills "bind the Provinces forever to allow denominational teaching in all schools if the trustees choose to order it." And why should it not be so, or how else should it be? Who has better right than the trustees elected by the parents of a district to decide whether or not religious teaching shall be allowed in the school of that district? There is not in the whole scheme of Government, a body more thoroughly, directly and continuously representative of the opinions and wishes of the people of a school district than the trustee board elected by them. What therefore could be a more completely responsible arrangement than that which leaves to this body the power to permit or prevent religious teaching in the school of that district? This is beyond doubt the most thoroughly responsible system yet devised in Canada with regard to the control of religious teaching in schools and in making war upon it this News reveals a misunderstanding of responsible government which confers little credit on a public journal of repute and which comes with unusually bad grace from a paper which calls upon heaven and the electorate to witness its herculean struggle with the powers of darkness which threaten the liberties of the Canadian people.

JAPAN'S ENQUIRY

The London Times publishes the following despatch from Tokio regarding the recent interpellation in the Japanese Diet and the ministerial reply regarding the efficiency of the British army:

The speech of Lieutenant-General Terachi, the Minister of War, recently made in the House of Representatives, was, according to the official verbatim report, substantially to the following effect: "I am aware of the article in the alliance agreement, as pointed out by Mr. Oishi, stipulating that the naval and military authorities of the two powers shall, frankly and sincerely, consult one another on the conditions and means of armed resistance to be rendered." The Government, therefore, have to act upon this stipulation, hereafter, but they have not as yet entered into any discussion on the subject.

Reuter's correspondent at Tokio telegraphs:

Mr. Oishi authorizes me to state that my version of the substance of his interpretation of January 31 was correct. His sole motive in calling attention to the British army organization was his desire to assist the noble ally of Japan in the most difficult but indispensable reform. He had not the slightest intention of wounding British susceptibilities. A stimulus from him was often helped, he thought, to facilitate the accomplishment of a difficult task.

The article (7) of the agreement between Great Britain and Japan to which Mr. Oishi referred is as follows:

The conditions under which armed assistance shall be afforded by either power to the other in the circumstances mentioned in the present agreement, and the means by which such assistance is to be made available, will be arranged by the naval and military authorities of the contracting parties, who will from time to time consult one another fully and freely upon all questions of mutual interest.

Summarized the situation appears to be that Japan, believing she may some time be called upon to give Great Britain a hand in a war, would be pleased to know whether or not Great Britain is in proper training. There should be no cause for offense in this legitimate concern of the Power with which we are in military partnership in the Far East, especially as Lord Roberts has quite recently offered a few suggestive remarks along the same line.

MORE JUDGES NEEDED

The rapid increase of population in Alberta is increasing the work of the judiciary in a manner which will doubtless demand the appointment of several new judges for this Province in the not distant future. There are now only three judges in the entire Province and the work devolving upon them in the past has been so great that unavoidable delays have frequently occurred in the settlement of important cases and the transaction of what may be termed the legal business of the Province has been retarded. How great is the volume of work falling to the judges of Alberta may be gathered from a comparison of the number of judges to the population of the various provinces.

Ontario, with a population of 2,182,000, has 88 judges, or one judge for each 24,900 of population.

Quebec has 39 judges for 1,650,000 people, or one for each 41,900.

In New Brunswick there are 14 judges with a provincial population of 330,000, or one to 23,500.

Nova Scotia has twenty judges to 460,000 people, or one judge to each 23,000.

In Prince Edward Island there are five judges for 103,000 people, or one to 20,600.

Manitoba has 9 judges for 250,000 people, or one judge to about 27,500.

British Columbia with a population of 180,000 has 12 judges, or one for each 15,000 people.

In Alberta there are 3 judges for a population conservatively estimated at 250,000, or one judge to 33,000 people.

These figures are of course approximate, but represent fairly the proportion of judges to population in the various provinces.

Assuming that the proportion of litigation to population is uniform, the Alberta judge has more work than three Ontario judges, two Quebec judges, three in New Brunswick, three in Nova Scotia, four in Prince Edward Island, three in Manitoba or five in British Columbia. Beside this a considerable portion of the work done by Alberta judges is in other provinces done by police magistrates. There are only two such officials in Alberta, not a sufficient number to materially lessen the work of the Supreme Court officers. On the basis of the proportion in Ontario, and disregarding the work of police magistrates Alberta would be entitled to ten judges to carry on the present work of the courts.

But the comparison is really more than this to the disadvantage of the Alberta judge, for the unsettled conditions of a new country being rapidly filled up by a composite population tend to produce far more litigation in proportion to the population than arises in an older province where conditions are long established and popularly recognized and where the common requirements of the law are very generally understood. While ignorance of the law is no excuse for crime, it is reasonable to suppose that a certain portion of the offences which call for settlement in court are in part due to such ignorance and this proportion must of necessity be larger in a new community composed of people from different countries and used to different laws and different methods of interpretation and application.

Litigation will not naturally increase with population and the rapid increase in population expected to occur within the near future might be considered reason for anticipating the increase in the business of the courts by the appointment of an even larger number of judges than required for the present work.

THE UNIVERSITY QUESTION

Editor of Bulletin.
Sir—Your editorial on "The University Question" in the 28th ult. is one which every citizen of Alberta should read and mentally digest on account of its rational treatment of such an important subject.

Assuming that 96 per cent. of the pupils pass the fourth book, it looks unfair, that the people of the Province should be taxed for the special benefit of four per cent. that they may be able to attach the cognomen of B.A. or M.A. to their names and flaunt the vanity of such over the taxpayer, who has to pay for it.

It would be much better to spend the money in the essentials of a good education in our public schools, in such a sparsely settled province as Alberta, than to spend it that a few might waste three or four of their best years pondering over the dusty thoughts and pages of useless Greek and Latin authors, who have little bearing on the agricultural community of Alberta. I fail to see what an Arts course does for a man even in the professions much less in agriculture, except tickle his vanity.

When this Province is ready for a university, why not let it be an affiliation of colleges on Agriculture, Medicine, Law, Pharmacy and Dentistry, where each student may enter his preferred course or profession at matriculation and at his own expense, without wasting precious years in an Arts course at the public expense. In this busy age, we are forced to study economy of time in business pursuits. Why not do so in professional lines as well.

Hoping you will grant me space in your columns.

I am, yours &c.,
JOHN GALBRAITH,
Edmonton, March 1st, 1906.

THE WEATHER

BIRCH LAKE ITEMS.

Gilpin, March 1st, 1906. — Leonard Newby, one of our enterprising ranchers and farmers south of Gilpin, is here again after an extensive tour through Southern California. He was greatly surprised to see so much poor land in the Golden State. There are several fertile valleys where fruit growing is the great industry. There is also a large portion of the country which requires an extensive system of irrigation before it will produce crops. For natural beauty it will not compare with Alberta and as for climate Mr. Newby was glad to get back under the clear blue sky and exhilarating air of Alberta.

During the last three months all the new town sites on the C.N.R. in this district have experienced a building boom. Vegreville has 75 new buildings including two banks, and almost every other line of business is represented. Lons have been changing hands quite freely at high prices. A quarter section adjoining the town was sold lately for $27 per acre. Laviole has a large hotel, livery stable, two general stores and a real estate office. The next townsite east of Laviole is Ranfurly. There are two stores and a lumber yard there. One of the stores is not occupied yet. It will be opened with a good stock of general merchandise in a few days. A. Blais has built a two storey frame hotel which will contain 30 rooms, and will be ready for business about the 1st of April. W. J. Reid, of Edmonton is building a warehouse for the Massey-Harris Implement Co. He has bought the lumber yard from J. S. Woods. As soon as spring opens he will build a residence and enlarge the lumber yard. The International Harvester Co. are putting up a building 40 feet frontage just as soon as the contractors finish the hotel. The lumber and brick is on the ground for a large livery stable to be built immediately. Ranfurly is making rapid development lately and is sure to grow. It is situated in one of the most fertile valleys in the province, extending for five miles south and west. A station is very much needed as quite a number of passengers board the trains here every day and there is a large quantity of freight handled.

The next town site, formerly called Delmonte, is situated north east of Birch Lake. The Norris Brothers are the pioneers of this town. They have a general store, lumber yard and the post office. A. Jones has a store here also, and Geo. Fuckette keeps a livery stable. It is expected that Innisfree will be a summer resort in the near future.

J. A. McDougall was in Edmonton for a few days last week.

W. Callison the merchant at Viking six miles south of Gilpin, received his first consignment of goods via the C.N.R. at Ranfurly the other day. He finds the C.N.R. a great convenience. Formerly all his goods had to be freighted over the trail from Edmonton and Wetaskiwin, a distance of over 100 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hennessy invited about fifty of the young people of the settlement to their home last Monday evening. Mrs. Hennessy was assisted by Miss Alth in receiving her guests. A dainty luncheon was served about the middle of the evening. The party amused themselves in dancing which was continued to a late hour. Every one seemed to have a delightful time.

R. V. Gilpin, who has been visiting relations and renewing old acquaintances at Gorrie, Ont. for several months is expected home in a few days.

Mr. Burgess, one of our latest arrivals in his new frame house.

H. Empey and wife are visiting friends in Edmonton and Stony Plain. A petition for a tri-weekly mail to Gilpin is being largely signed.

J. Sloman is teaming lumber from Innisfree for an extension to his house. Death has removed one of our settlers lately in the person of W. H. Hinkley whose home was on the shore of Birch Lake. He suffered for nearly a year with cancer.

New Westminster, Feb. 27. — The Liberals of this district have represented to the premier the claims of this part of British Columbia for a senatorship. In reply the premier pointed out that British Columbia had its regular number of senators, but if the district recommended a good man the communication would be considered.

The Liberals were unable to agree upon a suitable man, but recommended that British Columbia receive an additional senator.

Prince Albert, Feb. 27. — Jas. McKay, K.C., the leading Conservative of this city, at the opening of the court here today apologized to Judge Prendergast on behalf of his party for the grossly unfair and unwarrantable attacks made on the latter's integrity by the Conservative press and speakers as a result of his decision in the Prince Albert district recount.

Vienna, March 1. — Dr. Ott, King Edward's Maribad physician has taken the occasion of his return from his visit to England to publicly deny the rumors of His Majesty's ill health. CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS COMPLAIN.

Winnipeg, March 1. — Representatives of Christian Scientists of Winnipeg entered a protest before the law amendments committee yesterday against the clause in the bill to amend the medical act by which irregular practitioners would be barred from practicing in Manitoba. A. W. Mainland, represented the first scientists church while M. Austin and W. Lough appeared for the second scientists church. Mr. Mainland said that the clause in the bill against irregular practitioners would from a legal standpoint put the Christian Scientists out of business. They used no medicines and hence should not be included under the clause. He claimed that Christian science had already healed every known disease.

MANY TOWNSHIPS NEWLY OPENED

Over 2500 Homesteads Within 100
Miles of Edmonton are Opened for Location

Eighteen townships, in which there are over 2,500 homesteaders, all situated within 100 miles of Edmonton, and some of them not over 60 miles from the city, were thrown open for settlement at the land office this week.

The land in question is situated in three different localities. Eleven townships are situated to the northeast of the city and lie between the Saddle Lake and Whitefish Lake, north of the Saskatchewan river, and 100 miles from the city of Edmonton. The land in these 11 townships is A No. 1, which is evidenced by the fact that there were already many settlers on the land before the surveys were completed.

Another parcel of three townships, on which the surveys have just been completed, were thrown open in the Lobstick Lake region, directly west of the city and 60 miles from Edmonton as the crow flies. This country is getting a lot of settlers this spring and there are two or three parties of surveyors out there now, who are trying to get the lines in before the settlers have the country all taken up.

The other area thrown open is up on the Paddle river, beyond the Pembina, 70 miles to the northeast of the city. This is the pet country of the settler this year, and judging by the anxiety of all who have seen it to get homesteads there, it must really be a very fine country. One local land dealer who has had an opportunity to see a great deal of this country through having spent several years with surveying expeditions, described the Paddle river to the best piece of country in the province of Alberta. Parties are leaving the city every day in the week for the Paddle river, and at the present rate of proceeding there will be few homesteads left in that country before the season is very far advanced.

EX-CASHER ON TRIAL.
Toronto, Mar. 1.-A tremendous crowd thronged the police court this morning when E. H. George Bradwell and his wife were arraigned before the magistrate, three hours after their arrival from Jamaica, with Detective Black. Bradwell showed signs of worry, though he was not distressed, while his wife was inclined to be merry. They did not plead, but were remanded until Monday. Mrs. Bradwell was released on $5,000 bail, but Bradwell was taken back to jail.

MEDICAL BILL GOES THROUGH.
Winnipeg, Mar. 2.-Arguments advanced by representatives of Christian Scientists of Winnipeg, evidently had little weight with the Law Amendments committee of the legislature, for with little or no changes the bill to amend the Medical Act of the province was approved yesterday.

Further consideration of tenders for a city gas producer plant has been postponed for two weeks. Alderman Gibson, chairman of the fire, water and light committee has been called to Strathcona on a business.

USE THE BULLETIN WANT ADSBRITISH INVESTMENTS IN ALBERTA LANDS
(From "Canada")

Any project which tends towards the legitimate development of the Dominion merits support both on account of advantages it secures to Canada by the expenditure of capital which opens up new fields for energy and enterprise, and also that it provides remunerative investment for British capital under the flag. Such a venture is, we hear, shortly to be placed before the public, and will, without doubt receive very cordial support.

A new company is being formed to purchase an enormous area—500,000 acres to be exact—of agricultural land from the Canadian Pacific Railway. For some time past the extremely valuable and possibilities of the land assets of the Canadian Pacific have attracted an unusual amount of expert attention on this side, and the rapid advances noted from time to time in the shares of the company since last summer may be traced directly to a truer appreciation of the company's varied assets. When we state that 500,000 acres of valuable lands in the wheat-growing area are being conveyed to the new company and conveyed at a rate which allows a liberal margin of profit even at present prices, it will be generally conceded that the undertaking is of some importance.

The land to be purchased is situated in the district of Edmonton, in the Saskatchewan Valley, Alberta. The area comprises part of the land selected for settlement purposes by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and is in the best wheat-growing district in that section of the Dominion. Edmonton, the capital of Alberta, lies nearly in the centre of the company's property and promises to be one of the largest cities in Western Canada. The territory to be purchased is exceptionally well provided; in respect to railway connections, the Alpha and Omega of rapid development, as the area is intersected by three great railway systems. The Calgary and Edmonton gives direct connection with the main line of the C.P.R. The Canadian Northern Railway has already reached Edmonton, thus bringing this district into direct communication with Winnipeg, the great wheat market of the West; and the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific will also pass through this district. The latter line will be built through to the Pacific Coast, which will give this district direct access to the markets of China and Japan.

The terms upon which the company is obtaining its land seem very favorable in view of the recent rise in land values. The purchase will be completed at the rate of $5.15 per acre, whereas the usual price for fairly good land in this district even when acquired in blocks averages about $7. It has to be taken into consideration moreover, that the Hudson's Bay Company have just announced that they will sell no further land within a radius of ten miles of a railway at a lower figure than $3. per acre. The returns of the sales made by other companies show that there has been a great advance in land during the last half-year and a steady advance in this respect is confidently anticipated. This is a fact, however, upon which the intending investor may easily convince himself by a comparison between the nominal value of the properties of various Canadian land companies and the present value of such assets. The marked degree of expansion which now characterizes trade throughout the Dominion as exemplified by the returns of December last, which we publish elsewhere in this issue, furnishes additional weighty testimony in this respect.

The management of the new company proposes to adopt a very liberal policy with its settlers. Plots may be purchased either by cash down or by one-sixth part in cash, and the balance in five equal annual instalments, with six per cent. interest. Settlers of a superior class are now pouring into Western Canada, and it is for such that the new company will cater. Probably few realize how great is the tide of emigration to Canada. To quote Sir Henry Seton-Karr, "Immigrants are now pouring into the great Dominion at the rate of 2,000 per week." We shall be considerably surprised if the figures for 1906 do not greatly surpass all previous records.

The above are a few more salient features which will commend to the public the venture shortly to be launched. In many quarters fabulous wealth is thought to be locked up in Canadian land. Without entertaining these extreme views, it appears certain that the holders of land in well-chosen plots and with free railway communication, if such land be purchased at its present market value, will possess an asset which may be classed as a gilt-edged security, having, moreover, advantages that have not always characterized the latter-to wit, a satisfactory rate of interest and a steady appreciation in value. As those connected with this project are well-known in connection with Canadian matters, when the full details are issued, the investment offered to the public will, we doubt not, be regarded as entirely straightforward and attractive.

thousands of the most obstinate cases of Coughs, Colds and Lung troubles. Let it cure you.

"Last winter I coughed for three months and thought I was going into Consumption. I took all sorts of medicine, but nothing did me any good until I used Shiloh's Consumption Cure. Four bottles cured me. This winter I had a very bad cold, was not able to speak, my lungs were sore on the sides and back. Six bottles of Shiloh made me well again. I have given it to several people and every one of them have been cured."—D. Joseph, St. Hyacinthe, Que.

When I go to so much trouble getting the best tobacco in Cuba for the filler of my Pharaoh cigar, it would be very short-sighted to spoil it with a cheap binder and wrapper.

Of course the binder and wrapper are only about 20 per cent. of the cigar, but I do not let that small portion drop below the high standard I have set for the other 80 per cent. of my Pharaoh Cigar.

To hold the filler together I use a Connecticut broadleaf binder. This is the best binder money can buy.

I import direct from Holland a specially selected Sumatra wrapper—a genuine, clear leaf—the finest wrapper grown.

It is this personal care which I give to every detail in the manufacture of my Pharaoh cigar that makes it such a superior smoke. It is a full flavored, palatable, mellow cigar. Price 10c.

None genuine unless branded "Pharo."

In order to reach the News or Editorial rooms of the Bulletin, ring up Phone No. 450

—The band will be in attendance at the rink tonight.

—Skating in the rink this evening with the band in attendance.

—W. H. Martin & Co., harness manufacturers, will shortly move into the premises occupied by the undertaking firm of Lubbock & Moffatt.

—Principal Riddell goes south tomorrow and on Sunday will open a new Methodist church at Dayland, erected under the pastorate of Rev. R. E. Finlay.

—Rev. Father Jan, of St. Joachim's parish, is resigning his charge here on account of ill-health. He has been assigned to St. Anthony parish, Strathcona, where the work will be lighter.

—J. L. Clark, of Dundas, Ont., is in the city, registered at the Windsor. Mr. Clark was the proprietor of a large woollen mill in the east, and is touring the west with a view to obtaining a business location.

—The firm of Green & McLean, real estate agents, are moving into the premises formerly occupied by the Edmonton Glove Co. The premises are being remodelled and furnished in an up-to-date manner.

—The Inland Agricultural Society will hold a meeting on Monday to discuss the formation of a pork packing plant. Members of the society are canvassing the neighborhood to ascertain how many hogs would be promised them.

—Rev. A. S. Tuttle lectured in Grace church last evening under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society on "The Golden Thread of Philosophy, Poetry and Religion." Principal Riddell was chairman. The male quartet of Grace choir rendered a selection. Miss Macdonald gave a much appreciated reading and Mr. Howard Stubbins sang. A collection was taken for the funds of the society.

—C. W. Willis, who has taken a five-year lease of the premises until recently occupied by J. Chenier, next the Merchants Bank, has rented the west side of the store to Mr. Tait, Photographer, who will move into his new quarters about the first of April. Mr. Tait will occupy the entire upper storey of the building, and the west half of the first floor.

—J. B. Lubbock, who has dissolved partnership with H. W. Moffatt, and who will continue to carry on the undertaking business and the art gallery, has taken a lease of the new store premises on First street in the rear of McDougall and Secord, known as the Carruthers block, part of which is now occupied by Cannell & Spencer. Mr. Lubbock is having the store fitted up in an up-to-date manner, and has added a morgue to his establishment.

—The choir of Queen's avenue Presbyterian church, assisted by Miss Ethel Webster, soprano; Miss Macdonald, alto; Mr. Jackson Hanby, tenor; Mr. Howard Stubbins, baritone and Clarke's orchestra of ten pieces under the direction of Mr. J. T. Richardson, will give a grand recital of sacred and secular music in Queen's avenue church, Sunday evening, March 16th, in aid of the organ fund. The members of the choir have purchased through the Douglas Co., of this city, a new two manual organ by Doherty, and the instrument will be installed in the church within the next few days.

—Geo. F. Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture, returned on Wednesday from a tour where he has been attending a meeting of the Olds creamery Association. C. P. Marker, dairy superintendent for Alberta, was also present, and the meeting was one of the best in the history of the Association. The Association has had a particularly successful year, and as the old creamery building is in good condition it was decided to erect a new creamery building at a cost of $2,000. Mr. Marker has arranged for a two weeks' series of meetings to be held at points where the farmers wish to establish new creameries. Applications for the establishment of creameries are being received daily at the Department of Agriculture.

—Messrs. Clarke and Richardson, of Clarke's Orchestra, gave their first annual banquet to the members and friends of the orchestra at the C. N. R. restaurant on Wednesday evening. About twenty of the musicians and their friends sat down to a sumptuous feast, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. After the supper had been done ample justice to an enjoyable program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered by the various members of the orchestra; violin and mandolin solos by Mr. Richardson, and Mr. Plowright, and songs by Messrs. Burton, Lowe, Ferris, Watkins, and Clarke. Speeches were given by members complementary to the management of the orchestra and wishing it and the manager in particular. Mr. Walter Clarke, every success. The toasts of the evening were "The King," given by W. Richardson; "Clarke's Orchestra," by Mr. Fraser Tims, and responded to by Mr. J. J. Richardson, and the ladies, by Mr. Fraser and Mr. Plowright. Mr. Johnson made an efficient accompanist. After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," the company dispersed with best wishes for the success of the orchestra.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. H. C. Taylor was the hostess at a luncheon party yesterday.

W. J. Price of Cold Lake, is in the city, registered at the Queen's.

Geo. Bulmer, of Montreal, and W. A. Bulmer, of Hamilton, are registered at the Imperial.

Miss McConnell, who has been visiting Portage la Prairie and Winnipeg for the last three weeks returned yesterday.

Mr. W. D. Vance and A. R. B. Edmondson of the Public Works Department, have tendered their resignations and will leave for the east in a few days.

Mrs. Sprague left this morning for Springfield, Massachusetts, where she will visit for the next year. Mr. Sprague accompanied her as far as Calgary, and from where he will go to British Columbia.

At Mrs. Bulvey's informal luncheon yesterday afternoon, which was given for Mrs. Warner, of Winnipeg, of black brocade, with touches of mauve, and Mrs. Warner, a becoming gown of embroidered black cloth. Mrs. Bulvey wore a handsome gown of black silk with lace garniture. The table, at which covers were laid for six, was arranged with a centerpiece of real lace, upon which rested a bowl of white carnations and maidenhair ferns. The guests were Mesdames Warner, Rutherford, Cross, Saunders, Constantine and Hilop.

Miss Grace Robertson gave a delightful girls luncheon yesterday in honor of the fair bride-elect Miss McFarlane, covers being laid for eleven. Miss Robertson wore a becoming gown of white mousseline, and Miss MacFarlane dainty sheer organdie, with black picture hat. The table was decorated most appropriately with cream roses, a large red heart forming the centre piece, the name cards being dainty heart shaped affairs, tied with red ribbons. At the end of each was a dainty souvenir in the form of a spoon. The guests were Misses McFarlane, Webster, M. Matheson, Hooper, Wishart, Johnson, E. Taylor, Sommerville.

MURDERER CAPTURED

Griseville, March 1.—The murderer of Wambidaka the Indian shot here yesterday has been captured at his mother's place near Pipestone. He has shot himself but it is not known whether it will prove fatal. He is at Brandon hospital. The murder was a cold blooded affair. Wollybear the murderer came up from Pipestone with the intention of shooting Indian agent Yeomans and three Indians named Marakaka, Marakaka Wambidaka. He found on arrival that Yeomans was in Brandon. He called at the house of Wambidaka who was away from home. He then left the house saying he would be back in the morning. He returned in the morning and met Wambidaka. He raised his rifle and shot the unfortunate man in the stomach. As Wambidaka turned to run away he fell on his face when the murderer fired three more shots into his prostrate body, all of which took effect.

SPECIAL SALE

It's getting to the time of the year when everything Wintery must be put on the "retired list"—so far as this store is concerned; yet, two full wearing months are ahead.

A better chance to buy Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, for less than actual value

NEVER PRESENTED ITSELF

Our Suits, Furs and Overcoats must vacate. We don't want a vestige of Fall or Winter stock when we open the Spring Campaign, and we won't have it if we can help it.

Can you afford to miss a sale when the prices touch your purse so gently?

JOHN I. MILLS.
